The publication Education in the Caribbean Netherlands is the result of a literature review, analysis of policy and legislation, and more than 360 interviews with stakeholders in and around education on Bonaire, Saba and Sint Eustatius. The Education Council also attended a number of education institutes during working visits and organised workshops with teachers, students, parents, school principals and school boards, public entities, national government agencies, employers and organisations involved with education on the islands. A list of the organisations and stakeholders consulted is given below.
